RHEE PROMISES HANDS OFF ON TRUCE

Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

One of the things the city will probably have to purchase in the near future will be a radio setup for the police car.

The city limits now extend from the railroad to 16th and soon will go to 18th street. That is a pretty fair distance for a patroling police car to be moving around in, not to have contact with the city hall.

A good example of the need of radio contact was brought out strongly the other day when the accident occurred in Bryan Tolley's front yard on West Main.

The police were called, but with the patrol car out somewhere patrolling, they had no way to get to the scene where they were needed urgently.

They had to commandeer a fire truck to get to the accident.

That's one way to do it, but it would have been nice if they had had radio contact with the patrol car. The patrol car could have been within two blocks of the scene, and not known what was going on, but they could have gotten there in nothing flat through radio contact.

Of course there is the matter of money with which to purchase such an outfit, but as the need increases, we imagine that this will be solved.

Call from Mr. Vic Jeffrey today. It was good to hear that hearty laugh of his again.

Little League pitcher Steve Sanders got the thrill of his life over the weekend when he saw a Cardinal, doubleheader in St. Louis, along with the rest of his family.

Putting a birdhouse in the back yard may not have been such a hot idea. Kids take more baths in it than the birds, and so far the birds haven't had a chance.

North Third street has been paved again. Good right by Douglas High School.

Shirley Florist is doing some remodeling. Planning on a larger display room.

Mr. Wheatley is adding a garage onto his home on Sycamore.

Work progressing on the old Ford garage building.

Liquidation Of Beria Approved

MOSCOW, July 16 (UP)—The Communist Party newspaper Pravda said today that party members on all levels were approving measures to "liquidate" Security Minister, Lavrenti Beria's "anti-party and anti-state activity."

The newspaper attacked "one-man" decisions and said that the principle of "collective leadership" must apply to all party levels, from the lowest cell to the Central Committee of the Soviet Union.

Decisions by one man are almost always one-sided, Pravda said in a front page editorial.

The newspaper reported that virtually all party organizations and municipal, district and republican committees representing some 7,000,000 members met in plenary sessions during the past few days to discuss Beria's traitorous activities.

"We are a mighty demonstration of steel-like unity with party ranks rallying around the Central Committee," Pravda said. "All plans are approving fully as correct, timely and decisive all measures to liquidate Beria's anti-party and anti-state activity."

Willie Gottling's Place In History Seems To Be Assured

By PHIL N. United Press Foreign

Willie Gottling didn't know at the time, but on the morning of June 17 he was on his way to destiny and to a peculiar place in world history.

In Moscow, Lavrenti P. Beria seemed secure in his position as head of Russia's secret police and No. 2 man in the government. It seemed probable now that Beria also had no inkling of things to come.

Certainly he knew nothing of Willie Gottling.

Willie was 35, unemployed and by trade a house painter.

Willie is dead now, a martyr. What happened to Willie between the time he left his home, his wife and his two children in West Berlin on the morning of June 17 until something during the day of June 18 probably never will be known in detail.

He was a quiet man, and his wife said he never joined anything — let alone a riot.

But an announcement on June 18 from the Soviet Sector of Berlin said that Willie had been put before a firing squad and shot as one of the instigators of the East German uprising.

By crossing the unnatural boundary between East and West in the divided city Willie arrived at the precise moment when an oppressed and hungry people elected to revolt.

Workers had been ordered to increase their output another 10 per cent with no increase in pay, and without even being allowed to buy the things they theoretically were allowed on their ration list.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer pronounced a eulogy over Willie Gottling's empty coffin on the West Berlin city hall steps and Willie's place in history was assured.

Willie's and Beria's paths of destiny crossed the morning of June 17. Whatever may have been the real reason for Beria's downfall — whether he plotted to seize the government or was an early victim of civil warfare within the Kremlin — the East German uprising apparently set the stage.

It now appears that on or before June 27, Beria was under arrest and a prisoner.

It is not necessary to predict that as a result of his arrest changes will occur behind the Iron Curtain. Willie Gottling is a symbol of the fact that changes already have occurred. Hungry and oppressed East Germans rose in bloody revolt. Czech workers struck in Pilsen. The Reds complain of sabotage in Bulgaria, Hungary and Poland.

The Reds rejected President Eisenhower's offer of food for the East Germans. But hungry people have heard of the offer and the Reds' way will not be easier.

The present constellation, called to Moscow two weeks ago and was first scheduled to return to Berlin last week, informed sources said. He did not appear last week, and was informed he would arrive today.

However, over the weekend the Red government was told that his departure again had been delayed, according to the informants. They said no new date for his arrival was given.

Semenov's failure to return raised speculation that he had perhaps incurred the enmity of the Kremlin for his close ties with Lavrenti P. Beria, purged former chief of the Soviet secret police, or that he was being blamed for anti-Communist uprisings which swept the Soviet Zone last month.

It was pointed out that Semenov long has been known as a favorite and close associate of Beria. During World War II he was Beria's foreign policy adviser.

Communist East Germany, in a move to combat the spreading anti-Red sentiment for hungry workers in the Soviet Zone, today promised to provide more food.

Mr. Eisenhower offered Friday to send workers under Soviet domination in Germany $15,000,000 worth of food. The offer was made to the Soviet Union, as the occupying power, and was speedily and curtly rejected. The Red German regime also turned it down.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov Saturday denounced the offer as a "propaganda maneuver" and blamed Western agents for fomenting last month's anti-Communist uprisings and contributing to the food shortages.

The statement was received with derision by residents of East Berlin where the zone-wide revolt of June 17 was ignited.

"If Russia would stop milking us by feeding its occupation army off the land and shipping reparations to Russia we would have enough food," said one East Berliner.

The Communist rejection of Mr. Eisenhower's offer was broadcast repeatedly both by the American radio in West Berlin and Radio Free Europe.

Resentment Flares At Soviet Rejection Of Food Offer

By JOSEPH FLEMING United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, July 13 (UP)—Wide-spread resentment at Moscow's rejection of President Eisenhower's food offer was reported among East German workers today while speculation increased that the restless Soviet Zone may get a new high commissioner.

The present constellation, called to Moscow two weeks ago and was first scheduled to return to Berlin last week, informed sources said. He did not appear last week, and was informed he would arrive today.

However, over the weekend the Red government was told that his departure again had been delayed, according to the informants. They said no new date for his arrival was given.

The Communist rejection of Mr. Eisenhower's offer was broadcast repeatedly both by the American radio in West Berlin and Radio Free Europe.

Sources in Washington said that despite the rebuff the United States will ship food supplies to Germany anyway.

Both Soviet and East German authorities indignantly denied there was any food shortages in the Communist zone. But Food Minister Kurt Wach responded to the rumblings of discontent set off by the rejection of the American offer by promising the 18,000,000 East Germans that more food would soon be available.

Wach said more meat, fish, margarine and oil will be placed on the market shortly. These food-stuffs virtually have been unavailable in East Germany in the last few months, according to reliable information.

In Bonn, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer termed the Communist rejection "highly regrettable" and specifically resented politically.

Adenauer said he appealed to Mr. Eisenhower "for purely humane and political" gesture had Moscow accepted this honest offer, particularly since the distribution was to have been handled by us and not by the Americans.

Wants Korea Unified In A Reasonable Time After Signing

By EARNST HOBERECHT United Press Staff Correspondent

SEOUL, Korea July 13 (UP)—President Syngman Rhee promised today to keep his hands off the Korean armistice machinery for at least six months.

The 78-year old South Korean president said, however, he would take action if a post-armistice political conference fails to do anything about unifying Korea within a reasonable time.

Rhee, in effect, gave the political conference 90 days to show proof of its intentions to unify Korea.

Rhee's pledge was considered strong enough, informed sources said, for Allied truce negotiators at Panmunjom to assure the Communists the South Korean government would not obstruct the signing of the armistice.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief UN negotiator, gave the Reds this assurance at the first of two meetings in the truce talk North Korean Gen. Nam Il handed Harrison a written reply, following a 30-minute recess. Nam's answer was not made public. The two sides will meet again at 11 a.m. Tuesday, 10 p.m. EDT, Monday.

But shortly before today's meeting began, Radio Peking, voice of Red China, charged that Rhee had made an agreement with the United States which freed him to "sabotage the armistice."

Radio Peking's charge was a foreboding indication that there would be continued haggling at Panmunjom, with the Communists attempting to place responsibility for Rhee's future actions on the United States.

The most important task ahead of the negotiators was setting of a date for the elaborate armistice signing ceremony.

These are the major stages in bringing a truce to Korea: 1. Signing of the armistice, with

ROKs Regain Territory

SEOUL, Korea July 13 (UP)—

South Korean troops took advantage of a lull in enemy activity today to regain territory seized by the Communists on the bloody east-central front.

Infantrymen of the 8th ROK Division reclaimed their lost property in a two-pronged drive on an outpost west of Finger Ridge captured by the Chinese two days ago.

The South Koreans split into two groups and linked on the crest of the outpost, driving off the Chinese defenders in a brief fight.

For the first time in more than a week, the Chinese were relatively docile.

They threw only two companies against South Koreans, both withdrawing with high casualties. Reports from the Sniper Ridge area said the ROKs killed or wounded 92 Reds in one attack and Allied artillery cut the other Chinese company to pieces.

On the western front Red front-line loudspeakers blared a prophecy of "peace within a few weeks" possibly within a few days.

While the ground fighting was limited to skirmishes around Finger and Sniper ridges, the tempo of the air war was stepped up.

Fighter bombers and light bombers hit Communist front-line positions with 50 tons of high explosives.

Light bombers hit Jan's Russell Hill in the Sniper Ridge area, while others dropped thousands of pound bombs on Pork Chop Hill, abandoned by the U. S. 7th Division Saturday.

Shiber bombers pounded the Kum-sung area on the east-central front.

Fourteen night flying B-29 Superforts saw deep into northwestern Korea to pummel two supply targets with 140 tons of bombs. The targets feed supplies into the main rail route from Pyongyang to Sariwon.

The siege of Wonsan, longest in U. S. Naval history, continued as ships and planes of Naval Task Force 77 pounded the battered eastern port Sunday in one of the heaviest sea-air attacks of the year.

Yanks And Dodgers Lead Pack In Baseball Sweepstakes

By JOHN GRIFFIN

NEW YORK, July 12 (UP)—The Yankees and the Dodgers led the pack today as the field in the baseball sweepstakes reached another milestone in the season. The All-Star game vacation, but both the teams were mighty worried.

The Yankees have apparently emerged from their 14 game losing streak, but still they can't gain ground on those pesky White Sox.

And the Dodgers, with five defeats in their last 10 games and their wobbly pitching still threatening to come completely unstruck, find themselves under pressure from no fewer than four genuine pennant contenders—the Braves, Phils, Cards, and Giants.

Sunday was a typical example, as both league leaders won single games and still lost ground.

The Yankees scored a ninth-inning run to beat the Washington Senators 6-3, but their lead was reduced to five games as the White Sox swept a doubleheader from the Cleveland Indians, 14-2 and 3-1.

Despite two homers by Yogi Berra, the Yankees nearly lost when Mickey Mantle walked in the bottom of the ninth and moved around on a walk and Gene Woodling's pinch single.

The White Sox blasted out 32 hits in their twin bill, Minnie Minoso

America the Beautiful VACATIONLAND

SUMMER PLEASURE SEEKERS swarm to Put-in-Bay, Ohio, on Lake Erie. In this harbor in 1813 long ago Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry defeated the British. "We have met the enemy and they are ours..."

Stengel's other choices are Allie Reynolds and Johnny Sain of the Yankees, Mike Garcia and Bob Lemon of the Indians and the ancient Satchel Paige of the Browns.

The contest shaped up as a battle between the National League's imposing array of long-range hitters and Stengel's lighter-hitting but excellent defensive squad.

Stengel, smarting after losing three consecutive All-Star games, has promised an all-out effort. His squad is unusual — with only two catchers and no fewer than five shortstops — and seemed built for Casey Stengel's two-platooning with able-hitters.

Dessen likewise has promised an all-out effort and has hinted that he will play the starting nine the entire nine innings if necessary.

Stengel, smarting after losing three consecutive All-Star games, has promised an all-out effort. His squad is unusual — with only two catchers and no fewer than five shortstops — and seemed built for Casey Stengel's two-platooning with able-hitters.

Dessen likewise has promised an all-out effort and has hinted that he will play the starting nine the entire nine innings if necessary.

The American Art Galleries acquire two paintings from a mysterious Mr. "X" today, and announced they would go on public auction July 20.

In the painting both Ty and Linda are bare from the waist up. The gallery decided to bill the art works as "controversial."

"They were included in the possessions of a man and his attorney asked us to sell them," auctioneer Arthur Goode said.

The attorney, Harry Umann, explained the Powers had ordered the paintings but after a controversy the artist took them back. Mr. "X" a "prominent person," acquired the pictures from the artist, Ernst Van Leyden.

"If the Powers want the paintings they are welcome to buy them," the attorney said.

Also on auction will be a 18 by 20 foot tile mural which depicts the handsome profile's life. The mural shows Powers as movie actor all credits listed on tour with "John Brown's Body" and with Linda and their child.

The mural would be handsome in a bar," the auctioneer commented.

Other Van Leyden paintings of Janet Gaynor, Mary Pickford and Basil Rathbone will go under the auctioneer's hammer. They all are dressed.

GHOSTLY-HOOFBEATS

by Norman A. Fox

CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN
IN THE darkness before the dawn they rode valiantly on to Sheriff Griffin's house where they aroused him from deep slumber. Then they continued to his office and assembled there. Brownlee came quickly to the matter of the mission.

"I've come for that letter Flint Manning gave you years ago when you were his deputy. You know the one I mean, the letter to be opened if anybody ever was brought to trial for that old stage robbery," he said.

Griffin shrugged. "Sure," he said. Taking the keys, he unlocked a desk drawer and lifted a chamois bag from the litter within. "The Wells Fargo jewels," he said absently. He patted at a heap of papers. "Here it is." He passed over a sealed letter.

Brownlee handed it to Manning. "Read it, boy."

Cole's eyes ran swiftly over the yellowed pages of the letter written by his father and dated March, 1892. When he had finished it he looked up at them and said:

"So, Doc, you were the bandit and Packrat had seen someone burying something that night near his shack. But wait, let me read to you briefly from this letter. It may help you and me to judge. In dropping voice he began: . . .

"When I, Flint Manning, law man, demanded an explanation Brownlee confessed that he had taken the money in desperation. Fighting a typhoid fever epidemic at the time, he knew the crying need of the basin for an equipped hospital. More than that, with the basin's population growing, each year would see a greater need for such a hospital. As he talked of his plans and dreams, I was convinced of his sincerity and selflessness, and thus I made a decision which I have never since regretted.

Yanks And Dodgers Lead Pack In Baseball Sweepstakes

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, July 12 (UP)—The Yankees and the Dodgers led the pack today as the field in the baseball sweepstakes reached another milestone in the season. The All-Star game vacation, but both the leaders were mighty worried.

The Yankees have apparently emerged from their 14 game losing streak, but still they can't gain ground on those pesky White Sox.

And the Dodgers with five defeats in their last 10 games and their wobbly pitching staff threatening to come completely unstruck, find themselves under pressure from no fewer than four genuine pennant contenders — the Braves, Phils, Cards, and Giants.

Sunday was a typical example, as both league leaders won single games and still lost ground.

The Yankees scored a ninth-inning run to beat the Washington Senators 6-5, but their lead was reduced to five games as the White Sox swept a doubleheader from the Cleveland Indians, 14-2 and 3-1.

Despite two homers by Yogi Berra, the Yankees nearly lost when the Senators showed over two runs to tie at 5-5 in the ninth inning. Sunday But Yankee reliever Allie Reynolds gained his eighth win when Mickey Mantle walked in the last of the ninth and moved around on a walk and Gene Woodling's pinch single.

The White Sox blasted out 32 hits in their twin bill, Minnie Minoso getting six Mike Fornieles and Virgil Trucks hurled six-hitters back-to-back to win, although Billy Pierce had to help Trucks in the ninth. Art Houtteman and Bob Lemon were the well-labeled losers.

The Dodgers salvaged the 15th game in a series against the Giants, 4-3, in 10 innings but their National League lead was cut to 1 1/2 games by the Milwaukee Braves, who swept two games from the Cardinals, 10-1, and 4-3, dropping the Cards to fourth place.

Host Wilhelm faded, relieving opening victory as Johnny Antonelli breezed to win No. 8, Milwaukee came from behind to take the nightcap with a two-run, seventh-inning rally on doubles by Walker Cooper and Jack Dittmer and Billy Bruton's single.

Elsewhere in the National League the Phillies moved into third place by beating the Pirates twice, 6-4 and 6-5, also running the Pirates' losing streak to 10 games as Del Ennis clouted two homers to help Robin Roberts to his 14th win in the opener and Steve Ridzik's scoreless relief pitching won the nightcap. And the Redlegs used another Harry Perkowski and Fred Baczkowski to beat the Cubs, 7-4 and 3-1, although Ralph Kiner hit homers No. 20 and 21 for the Cubs in the opener.

In other American League games the A's and Red Sox split, the Sox taking the opener, 9-5 as Del Wilber drove in six runs with a double and a homer, and the A's winning the second, 4-1, behind Harry Byrd's six-hitter while the Tigers beat the Browns, 8-7, in the first game of a twin bill when Satchel Paige walked home the winning run, before the Browns won the second, 3-2, on three first-inning runs off ex-Dodger Ralph Branca, who was making his American League debut.

getting six Mike Fornieles and Virgil Trucks hurled six-hitters back-to-back to win, although Billy Pierce had to help Trucks in the ninth. Art Houtteman and Bob Lemon were the well-labeled losers.

The Dodgers salvaged the 15th game in a series against the Giants, 4-3, in 10 innings but their National League lead was cut to 1 1/2 games by the Milwaukee Braves, who swept two games from the Cardinals, 10-1, and 4-3, dropping the Cards to fourth place.

Host Wilhelm faded, relieving opening victory as Johnny Antonelli breezed to win No. 8, Milwaukee came from behind to take the nightcap with a two-run, seventh-inning rally on doubles by Walker Cooper and Jack Dittmer and Billy Bruton's single.

Elsewhere in the National League the Phillies moved into third place by beating the Pirates twice, 6-4 and 6-5, also running the Pirates' losing streak to 10 games as Del Ennis clouted two homers to help Robin Roberts to his 14th win in the opener and Steve Ridzik's scoreless relief pitching won the nightcap. And the Redlegs used another Harry Perkowski and Fred Baczkowski to beat the Cubs, 7-4 and 3-1, although Ralph Kiner hit homers No. 20 and 21 for the Cubs in the opener.

In other American League games the A's and Red Sox split, the Sox taking the opener, 9-5 as Del Wilber drove in six runs with a double and a homer, and the A's winning the second, 4-1, behind Harry Byrd's six-hitter while the Tigers beat the Browns, 8-7, in the first game of a twin bill when Satchel Paige walked home the winning run, before the Browns won the second, 3-2, on three first-inning runs off ex-Dodger Ralph Branca, who was making his American League debut.

Pierce Will Start For American

By CARL LUNDQUIST

United Press Sports Writer

CINCINNATI, July 12 (UP)—

Casey Stengel was expected to name Billy Pierce to start for the underdog American League in Tuesday's 29th All-Star classic against Charley Dressen's "automatic" choice of Robin Roberts, the National's leading winner.

The managers' selections will be announced at noon today along with the batting orders for the annual mid-summer "dream game" at Crosley Field. All the starters except the pitchers were chosen by a mandate of some two million fans who participated in a nationwide poll.

The National League, which has won three straight classics, was ruled a 7-5 favorite to win. The American League, however, leads in the series, 12 games to 7, and never has dropped four in a row.

Pierce, a fast curveballer who has won 10 games and lost five for the White Sox, seemed Stengel's logical choice because the American League's opening pitcher

NEW!

Here's how the new Farmall Fast-Hitch works; the farmer just backs up to the implement... the two coupling beams on the implement slip into the Fast-Hitch sockets on the tractor, and are locked instantly and automatically — to uncouple, just lift two latches. The farmer saves a great deal of time and all of the hard work usually required in hitching.

The American Art Galleries acquire the two paintings from a mysterious Mr. "X" today, and announced they would go on public auction July 20.

In the painting both Ty and Linda are bare from the waist up. The gallery decided to bill the art works as "controversial."

"They were included in the possession of a man and his attorney asked us to sell them," auctioneer Arthur Goode said.

The attorney, Harry Umenn, explained the Powers had ordered the paintings but after a controversy the artist took them back. Mr. "X" a "prominent person," acquired the pictures from the artist, Ernst Van Leyden.

"If the Powers want the paintings they are welcome to buy them," the attorney said.

Also on auction will be a 18 by 20 foot tile mural which depicts the handsome profile of a life. The tiles show Power as movie actor all credits listed on tour with "John Brown's Body" and with Linda and their child.

"The mural would be handsome in a bar," the auctioneer commented.

Other Van Leyden paintings of Janet Gaynor, Mary Pickford and Basil Rathbone will go under the auctioneer's hammer. They all are dressed.

Goode said he figured the Powers' paintings were the most personal items to go on sale since he auctioned off John Barrymore's girder.

GHOSTLY HOOFTBEATS

by Norman A. Goss

CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN
IN THE darkness before the dawn they rode valiantly on to Sheriff Griffin's house where they aroused him from deep slumber. Then they continued to his office and assembled there. Brownie came quickly to the matter of the mission.

"I've come for that letter Flint Manning gave you years ago when you were his deputy. You know the one I mean, the letter to be opened if anybody ever was brought to trial for that old stage robbery," he said.

Griffin shrugged. "Sure," he said. Taking the keys, he unlocked a desk drawer and lifted a chaotic bag from the litter within. "The Wells Fargo jewels," he said absently. He pawed at a heap of papers. "Here it is." He passed over a sealed letter.

Brownie handed it to Manning. "Read it, boy."

Cole's eyes ran swiftly over the yellowed pages of the letter written by his father and dated March, 1892. When he had finished he looked up at them and said:

"So, Doc, you were the bandit and Packard had seen someone burying something that night near your shack. But wait, let me read to you briefly from this letter. It may help you and me to judge. In drowning voice he began:...

"When I, Flint Manning, law man, demanded an explanation Brownie confessed that he had taken the money in desperation. Fighting a typhoid fever epidemic at the time, he knew the crying need of the basin for an equipped hospital. More than that, with the basin's population growing, each year would see a greater need for such a hospital. As he talked of his plans and dreams, I was convinced of his sincerity and selflessness, and thus I made a decision which I have never since regretted."

"Doc Brownie could keep the money as far as I was concerned. The mail and the jewels eventually would be returned to Wells Fargo after the excitement died down. I returned and buried it close by. When I returned for it weeks later, the jewelry was gone. And that was the main reason for this letter. If some innocent party stumbled onto the jewelry and kept it, presuming it to be loot from an old robbery of bygone lawless days, that party might some day be accused of the robbery. Dr. Brownie and I do not want that to happen. He is the man who robbed the stage, and I, in a sense, was his accomplice.

"To those who may judge us harshly, I suggest an examination of the records of Brownie's charity hospital."

Manning's voice came to a stop and faded, like ghostly hoofbeats fading back into the past.

"Now you see why Purdy thought Flint was the robber," Brownie said in the heavy silence. "No matter what name we gave it, it was still robbery. Burke you'll want to lock me up till Manning can take me to Helena."

"Shucks, Doc, I ain't never had a cell your size in my jail," Griffin said. "You see, I read that letter years ago and sealed it up again. When I found that jewelry in Purdy's shack, I would have kept it, only I reckoned Flint would want it returned to Wells Fargo. Looked like I had no choice but to keep Packard in jail till young Manning got here. Only Packard got away. Now you'll understand why I went hunting you, all excited when that Ruxton fellow mentioned Packard's being held prisoner. I knew Ruxton was summing for you, so I figured it must be Torgin he had him. Well, the cat's out of the bag now. But I'll turn in my badge before I'll turn a key on you, Doc."

Laura shook her head. "Ma Hubbard supposed it was Flint's name you were worried about, Gramp. I did what I thought you'd want me to do. I'm proud of you for facing up to the truth."

From the open doorway, Mack Torgin said, "I heard every word of that letter. Pass it over, Manning. Pass it over, I say."

Slade Ruxton stood at Torgin's shoulder, his sardonic face showing his faint hint of laughter. He, too, held a gun. "Slade's a crew has deserted," he said. "I alone stayed with the sinking ship. But I'm no such fool as to figure there'll be any gold for me in Flint Manning's noble confession. I think I'll take something more tangible. Those Wells Fargo jewels, Sheriff. Would they be in that chaotic sack on your desk?"

It was then that Manning lunged against the desk sending the lighted lamp crashing to darkness.

In the confines of this little office, the roar of a forty-five made a mighty thunder, filing the corners and beating back from the walls. Torgin shooting, Manning judged, though he couldn't be sure, not with the darkness all around. He still held Flint Manning's letter in his hand. He jammed the letter inside his shirt and got his own gun out and sent a shot in the direction of the doorway, and then he leaped straight at the doorway. He was mindful that four others besides himself were packed in here and that one of them was Laura. He had to carry the light outside and he did so as Torgin and Ruxton dashed to the door.

Yanks And Dodgers Lead Pack In Baseball Sweepstakes

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK July 12 (UP)—The Yankees and the Dodgers led the pack today as the field in the baseball sweepstakes reached another milestone in the season. The All-Star game vacation, but both the leaders were mighty worried.

The Yankees have apparently emerged from their 14 game losing streak, but still they can't gain ground on these pesky White Sox. And the Dodgers with five defeats in their last 10 games find their wobbly pitching staff threatening to come completely unstruck, find themselves under pressure from no fewer than four genuine pennant contenders — the Braves, Phils, Cards, and Giants.

Sunday was a typical example, as both league leaders won single games and still lost ground. The Yankees scored a ninth-inning run to beat the Washington Senators 6-5, but their lead was reduced to five games as the White Sox swept a doubleheader from the Cleveland Indians, 14-2 in a 3-1. Despite two homers by Yogi Berra, the Yankees nearly lost when the Senators showed over two runs to tie at 5-5 in the ninth inning. Sunday But Yankee reliever Allie Reynolds gained his eighth win when Mickey Mantle walked in the last of the ninth and moved around on a walk and Gene Woodling's pinch single.

The White Sox blasted out 32 hits in their twin bill, Minnie Minoso getting six Mike Fornieles and Virgil Trucks hurled six-hitters back to back to win, although Billy Pierce had to help Trucks in the ninth. Art Houtteman and Bob Lemon were the well-lathered losers.

The Dodgers salvaged the last game in a series against the Giants, 4-3, in 10 innings but their National League lead was cut to 1 1/2 games by the Milwaukee Braves, who swept two games from the Cardinals, 10-1 and 4-3, dropping the Cards to fourth place. Hoyt Wilhelm failed in relief for the Giants, blowing a 3-1 ninth inning lead by serving up a two-run homer to Billy Cox and then walking Bobby Morgan with the bases loaded, in the 10th to force home the winning run.

The first grand-slam homer of Ed Mathews' career, his 27th career, almost marked the Braves' opening victory as Johnny Antonelli breezed to win No. 8. Milwaukee came from behind to take the nightcap with a two-run, seven-inning rally on homers by Walker Cooper and Jack Dittmer and Billy Bruton's single.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Phils moved into third place by beating the Pirates twice, 6-4 and 6-5, also running the Pirates losing streak to 10 games as Del Ennis clouded two homers to help Robin Roberts to his 10th win in the opener and Steve Ridzik's scoreless relief pitching won the nightcap. And the Redlegs used outpunches Harry Perkowski and Fred Bakewell to beat the Cubs, 7-4 and 7-0, although Ralph Kiner hit homers No. 20 and 21 for the Cubs in the opener.

In other American League games the A's and Red Sox split, the Sox taking the opener, 9-5 as Del Wilber drove in six runs with a double and a homer, and the A's winning the second, 4-1, behind Harry Byrd's six-hitter while the Tigers beat the Browns, 8-7, in the first game of a twin bill when Satchel Paige walked home the winning run, before the Browns won the second, 3-2, on three first-inning runs off 45 Dodger Ralph Branca, who was making his American League debut.

Pierce Will Start For American

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer
CINCINNATI, July 13 (UP)—Casey Stengel was expected to name Billy Pierce to start for the underdog American League in Tuesday's 20th All-Star classic against Charley Dressen's "automatic" choice of Robin Roberts, the National's leading winner.

The managers selections will be announced at noon today along with the batting order for the annual mid-summer "dream game" at Crosley Field. All the starters except the pitchers were chosen by a mandate of some two million fans who participated in a nationwide poll.

The National League, which has won three straight classics, was held a 7-5 favorite to win. The American League, however, leads in the series, 12 games to 7, and never has dropped four in a row.

Pierce, a fast curveballer who has won 10 games and lost five for the White Sox, seemed Stengel's logical choice because the American League's opening pitcher must face a predominantly left-handed hitting lineup. Roberts, on the other hand, seemed the imminent choice of Dressen simply because he is Roberts — a 26-game winner in 1952 and a 14-game winner this season.

Stengel's other choices are Allie Reynolds and Johnny Sain of the Yankees, Mike Garcia and Bob Lemon of the Indians and the ancient Satchel Paige of the Browns.

The contest shaped up as a battle between the National League's imposing array of long-range hitters and Stengel's lighter-hitting but excellent defensive squad.

Stengel, smarting after losing three consecutive All-Star games, has promised an all-out effort. His squad is unusual — with only two catchers and no fewer than five shortstops — and seemed built for Casey Stengel's two-plotting with able-hitters.

Dressen likewise has promised an all-out effort and has hinted that he will play the starting nine the entire nine innings if necessary.

"Controversial" Pictures To Go On Sale At Auction

By ALINE MOSBY United Press Hollywood Writer HOLLYWOOD (UP) - Mr. and Mrs. Tyrone Power don't know it yet, but semi-nude portraits of them, soon, will be hangings in some citizen's living room.

The American Art Galleries acquire the two paintings from a mysterious Mr. "X" today, and announced they would go on public auction July 20.

In the painting both Ty and Linda are bare from the waist up. The gallery decided to bill the art works as "controversial."

"They were included in the possessions of a man and his attorney asked us to sell them," auctioneer Arthur Goode said.

The attorney, Harry Umann, explained the Powers had ordered the paintings but after a controversy the artist took them back. Mr. "X" a "prominent person," acquired the pictures from the artist, Ernst Van Leyden.

"If the Powers want the paintings they are welcome to buy them," the attorney said.

Also on auction will be a 18 by 20 foot tile mural which depicts the handsome profile of a life. The tiles show Power as movie actor all credits listed on tour with "John Brown's Body" and with Linda and their child.

"The mural would be handsome in a bar," the auctioneer commented.

Other Van Leyden paintings of Janet Gaynor, Mary Pickford and Basil Rathbone will go under the auctioneer's hammer. They all are dressed.

Goode said he figured the Powers' paintings were the most personal items to go on sale since he auctioned off John Barrymore's girder.

Mrs. Modest Board, and her son, Earnest, from Chicago, Ill. A nice time was had by all.

Mrs. Juanita Self and children and Mrs. Bytha Self and Clara visited Mrs. Katie Ellison and Mrs. Annie B. Counts and her little daughter, Katie Lou, one day this week.

Mrs. Emma Nance's daughter, Sally, and her husband from Chicago, spent the Fourth of July weekend with her mother, Mrs. Nance, and her sisters, Maude and Mary.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ellison of Mayfield spent the Fourth with his mother, Mrs. Katie Ellison and his sister, Mrs. Guy Counts and her daughter.

Mrs. Carl Eldridge and children visited Mrs. Kate Ellison for a while one day last week.

We had a nice rain around this part of the county. We sure hope everyone else had one.

I will sign off for now.

NEWS

July is here, the Fourth now history. We wish everyone had observed it in a way that they may have pleasant memories of Independence Day.

The showers that have been partial, we hope will soon become a reality to the Cherry Corner community, and other places that need rain.

We hear there were some vacant pews in other churches the same as at the Cherry Corner Baptist Church, Sunday, July 5.

Rev. Garnett Moss, pastor of the Cherry Corner Church, delivered a challenging message, that we appreciated, Sunday. The scripture he used was Deuteronomy 3:6-15, with an emphasis that God commands to keep the Sabbath Day. We feel that we have another great leader for our church.

Cassell Garrison led the singing Sunday in the absence of our songleader, Hoyt Roberts and family, who are spending their vacation in Oklahoma visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Stubblefield and son of Detroit, spent their vacation here visiting the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Stubblefield of the New Concord Highway and attended church at Cherry.

Mr. and Mrs. Brent Outland and daughter and Woodard Outland of Murray, recently spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Otis Outland. They visited the Hick's cemetery, where Woodard's wife was buried a few weeks ago.

Pvt. Hardy Outland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Macon Outland, who has been stationed at Fort Knox, is at home on a fourteen day furlough. After his furlough he goes to Camp Stone, Calif.

Three more boys from the Cherry Church, recently left for military training, they were Willie Dek, general secretary of the Sunday School, Bobby Joe Bury, and N. D. Roberts.

Roberts Hicks of Poplar Springs Church left with the same group of boys. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hicks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brawlett and sons of St. Louis returned to their home after spending ten days visiting here with relatives. They also visited places of interest on the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Clayton of Buchanan, Tenn., were guests at a fish dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Otis Outland and Dale on the Fourth.

Mrs. Nora Parker of Hazel is spending several days with her children in St. Louis. Mr. Charlie planned to enter a hospital, July 6, for throat treatment. He will probably have surgery. His relatives are deeply concerned about him.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Henry and children and grandchildren had a picnic at the lake during the Fourth.

Mrs. Keys Farris was a patient at the hospital for surgery on her hand Saturday. She returned home Sunday.

There was an ice cream supper at Mr. and Mrs. Keys Farris' Friday night honoring Mrs. Farris' brother, Harmond Hendon of Paducah.

Mrs. Carl Farris, who fell and broke both arms several weeks ago has had the plaster casts removed, but she has to wear a bandage for a few weeks.

Pvt. Hardy Outland, Dan Parker, James Ed Farris, Dale Outland, and Harold Phillips camped on the lake for one night recently.

resources available to it to obtain an improved income and gracious living on the farm.

"A long-time (five-year) analysis of problems of the farm and home is made by the families with the assistance of the county and home demonstration agents. The families then determine the practical solutions of their problems and what they plan to do about them the coming year. The Extension Service and other agencies, as well as other service institutions, may be called upon by the families to help in developing plans."

Farm, Home Planners
To Hold 'Open House'

A long-time improvement plan called "Farm and Home Development program," launched by the University of Kentucky in 1948, has made enough progress to warrant "open house" on improved farms in 12 counties this season. All told, 765 families in 42 counties are enrolled in the program.

Farm people and all other interested persons have been invited to visit the farms and homes of families in the improvement program, to see what has been done and hear about how it was done.

Families enrolled in the program have improved their land and crop production, fixed up their buildings, fences and other equipment, modernized their houses, and in other ways developed better incomes and more satisfactory living conditions. They have not reached perfection but have made progress, it was pointed out, and many of them will continue to make improvements over the years.

The announcement of the "open house" has this to say:

Farm and Home Development is a cooperative program carried on by the farm families of a county and the Extension Service of the University of Kentucky. The farm family undertakes to utilize all the BIG 2 for 1 Buick Value!

Here is a bargain for you and your Buick!

Drive in—ask for our LUBRICARE treatment. It's more than just a thorough, conscientious lubrication job. It's handled by a trained Buick mechanic, not an ordinary "lube man." And he follows factory-specified practice in the special-purpose lubricants he applies as he performs a 59-step lubrication job.

And you'll find it a real bargain—because it costs no more than an ordinary "grease job" somewhere else.

In fact, it's a 2-for-1 bargain! For this same Buick-trained mechanic also inspects your Buick, from bumper to back-up lights, checking key points to spot possible wear before you're aware of it.

Come in for LUBRICARE this week—and see what extra value you get, in both price and pleasure!

New Movie
Has Good
Background

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Producer Collier Young launched a movie in which his wife Joan Fontaine, is being directed by his ex-wife, Ida Lupino.

"We want to be grown-up about it all," shrugged Young.

Furthermore, Young and Miss Lupino are partner producers on the film, "The Bigamist," no connection with the real life situation, which is legal. They continued their company, Filmakers, after their divorce.

Young narrates the movie, Howard Duff, Ida's husband, didn't get into this epic but he'll star in their next picture.

Joan's mother, Mrs. Lillian Fontaine of Saratoga, Calif., got in the act as an actress in the movie, however. So did Ida, who will direct herself.

I asked Miss Fontaine how she felt about being directed by her predecessor in Young's affections and she said, "Oh, Ida and I are old friends."

I knew her before Collier did," she said. "I'm his third wife and Ida is his second. In fact, when I go to New York I always visit the first Mrs. Collier Young. We're all good friends."

Collier and Joan also are godparents of Ida and Howard's baby.

Aherne, Joan's first husband in here someplace.

"We really tried to get Louis Hayward, Ida's first man to do a bit as a bus driver but he wouldn't," she added.

Ford Master-Guide
the last word in Power Steering!

It's the newest in a long list of Ford advancements that make this Ford the outstanding car for '53!

No other car near Ford's price has ever offered you so much!

Ford was the first in its field to bring you V-8 power. Today, Ford alone of all the low-priced cars offers you the smooth, unsurpassed performance of a V-8 engine. And Ford's Six—the most modern in the industry—with Overdrive, won the Grand Sweepstakes in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run.

Ford first brought to the low-price field a completely automatic transmission that combines the smoothness of a torque converter and the gas-saving "go" of automatic gears. Fordomatic remains the most versatile automatic you can buy.

Ford's new "ride" brings you road-bugging and bump-leveling qualities never before known in low-priced cars. Front end road shock alone has been reduced up to 80%.

Easier-acting suspended pedals. Center-Fill Fueling and Full-Circle Visibility are just a few of the many important advancements first introduced by Ford.

And now Ford brings you the newest and finest in power steering . . . Master-Guide, a system exclusive in Ford's field! It's no wonder, then, that Ford is the "Worth More" car . . . worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it.

Master-Guide applies hydraulic steering power automatically . . . and in varying degrees as required . . . right at the steering linkage, close to the wheels. At the same time the system serves as a hydraulic shock absorber to keep road jabs and jolts from your hands. As a result all you do is . . . guide the car . . . Master-Guide supplies the muscles.

HELPS YOU OUT OF "TIGHT SPOTS!" The tougher the going the more Master-Guide works for you. For example, if you go off the pavement onto a soft shoulder or a rough, rutted road, Master-Guide provides the muscles to keep you on a steady course. At the same time, Master-Guide absorbs the shock that might otherwise be transmitted to the steering wheel. You'll find all handling is easier with Master-Guide and that parking requires only one-fourth the normal effort. Should Master-Guide ever lose its power, the standard steering mechanism will operate just as usual. Thus, Master-Guide provides new ease and stability, with a natural feel and full security, wherever you may drive.
